

Global Jeans

The denim is made from cotton grown in Benin

The teeth of the zip use brass wire made in Japan

The denim cotton was woven and dyed in Italy

The dye used to dye the cotton denim was made in Germany

The denim was sent by sea to Tunisia, where it was made into jeans

The zip was made in France by a Japanese company

The copper for the brass came from Namibia

The zinc for the brass came from Australia

The buttons are made of brass (a mixture of copper and zinc) which was made in Germany

The jeans were sent by truck to the UK

The jeans were designed in the USA by an American jeans company

The fibre in the polyester thread came from oil imported from Kuwait

The jeans were sent by sea to France

The jeans were stonewashed using lumps of pumice stone from an extinct volcano in Turkey

The polyester fibre for the thread was made in Japan

Some of the thread was made in the UK

Some of the thread was made in Hungary

Some of the thread was made in Turkey

The jeans ended up in a shop in Primark in Toulouse

The thread was dyed in Spain