Can you think of any reasons why this pull-out (decolonization) happened in such a short period of time? Clue: Think of a major world event involving these two countries.

Having had their resources taken, their peoples enslaved, their cultures destroyed, and their languages dictated to them, the populations of these colonies were left to pick up the pieces after years of colonial control. All the above clearly helped to boost the economies and prospects of the colonizers and has certainly contributed to their current levels of economic success (HIC).

Check out the GDP per capita map of the world in 2019. Describe the differences in wealth between those former colonized countries and those countries in Europe who used to control them.

Why does building land walls lead to higher death rates elsewhere?

The image on the next page is a headline from a famous British newspaper called The Times. This is a story about a migrant who had stowed away on a flight from Kenya in the landing gear of the plane.

- i. Why did this person from Kenya try to get the UK like this?
- ii. Do you have any comments or observations to make about the content of the article?
